

The Georgia Organics Farm to School team is seeking an intern for a six month term (approximately May 2- Nov. 30, 2018). Interns will primarily work on our Golden Radish Awards, October Farm to School Month, Farm to School workshops, and communications. The internship will be based in our Atlanta office with work space available.

Duties may include:

- Developing and testing activities for October Farm to School Month campaign
- Assisting with the application review process for the Golden Radish Award
- Developing and updating promotional and outreach materials
- Compiling and organizing data and performing basic data analysis
- Drafting resources for workshops, trainings, and other speaking engagements
- Acting as a Georgia Organics representative at events
- Supporting farm to school communications, including writing blog articles, supporting e-newsletter content, updating our farm to school website, and social media
- Basic administrative support
- Other duties, as needed.

Interns are compensated at $10/hr. The internship is part time at approximately 16-24 hours a week.

To apply, please send your resume and a cover letter to abbie@georgiaorganics.org with the subject heading "F2S Intern." The deadline to apply is Weds. March 28.
